

The Board of Trustees of Georgian Public Broadcaster (GPB) is closely monitoring covering of October 31, 2020 parliamentary elections on Georgian Public Broadcaster. The Board has become introduced with the monitoring conclusions and claims:

In the period from September 1 to September 25, no cases of subjective and biased attitude or expression toward election entities have been detected.

In information bullets of First Channel when covering public-political news, ethic standards were fully adhered to. Also, activities of election entities and political parties were covered neutrally.